Mr Punch and General Grant

IMPRESSIVE [illegible] TO THE YOUNG PRESIDENT.

(From London Punch.

"Mr. President elect Ulysses Grant, of the United States of America, I congratulate you, sir, and the great American Nation upon your election to the throne of King George Washington, and, in this goblet of driest champagne, I wish you a merry Christmas and a happy reign," said Mr. Punch.

"Festive cuss," said General Grant, smiling.

"Your name, my Ulysses," said Mr. Punch pensively, "appears to me to be of good augury [illegible] your [illegible] country."

"Duly ominous."

"Man of brevity (which is the soul of wit not to say silence which is golden), you're right.

And I [illegible] hold her General's blade
Columbia's [illegible] and [illegible]

Natheless, Odysseus, a pleasing coincidence meriteth notice. There be points in the history of your classic namesake which a West Pointsman will recall, and which somewhat adumbrate your own history."

"State 'em."

"Sir, thus. You did not desire to be employed in war, but like the king of Ithaca, when engaged, you showed the utmost sagacity, activity and valor."

"Too brown to blush."

"There is no need. Nextly happier than some heroes, you were universally applauded by your countrymen and rewarded with the arms of Achilles, that is the most exalted military honor in the Nation's gift."

"Good again."

"Ulysses, sir, was famous in connection with the horse. He valiantly carried away the horses of Rhesus and he invented the horse that took Troy. I think, sir, that you are a great authority in the matter of horses."

"Health, old hoss!"

"Thanks. Then, sir, in steering for the wished for shore, I find that you stopped years to all Siren blandishment, did your best to prevent Windbags from blowing your vessel wrong, and escaped safely from Republican Scylla and Democratic Charybdis."

"Classic cuss!"

"Again, sir, I find in your peculiarly wise dealing with the shoals of hungry beggars for office the antitype of Ulysses smashing the suitors."

"Blow em!"

"Further, sir, you have given a lesson to the Cyclops or one eyed people who can but see one side of the question, and forget that a King or President must rule for all. That lesson was given by a hot pole, and there was never a hotter poll than at your election."

"Playful cuss!"

"But, sir, your greatest similitude save one, is in the fact that like the Ithacan, your namesake, you inspired by Minerva, goddess of wisdom, resolved to give peace to the tribes."

"Tot up."

"Yes, sir, for here is your last and grandest similitude. Equally with Ulysses inspired by supernatural wisdom, you secretly departed from a gloomy region,

Where, in a lonely land, and gloomy cells,
The dusky nation of Britannia dwells,
The sun near views the uncomfortable seats,
When radiant he advances or retreats
Unhappy race whom endless night invades,
Clouds the dull air and wraps them round with shade.

"In the dark, now. Where's that?"

"Here," said Mr. Punch, mildly and forgivingly. "Is not that the view taken by you Americans, and by the French, whom you adore so, of the mental and physical condition of this rotten little old island?"

"We have fools. Haven't you?"

"Many thanks be to the Parcæ, or how should the wise live! Well, sir, you repudiate the description, but you accept the fact that you made a secret and mystic journey to consult Tiresias, the most profoundly wise creature in all creation, upon your future course. Tiresias, I need hardly add," said Mr. Punch, modestly, "is myself."

"By Jove," said the President elect jumping up, clasping his venerable friend's hand with one of his own hands, and raising high the goblet with the other, "you are Tiresias, and your baton is the staff which was given him by Minerva, when he lost his eye for—"

"Never mind about that," said Mr. Punch. "I have lost mine, and if you have studied my works you will know that my peculiar gift is that I never see anything which true reverence forbids me to see."

"Right, Mr. Punch, and I would that all censors were as conscientious. I glory to know you, sir. I came by cable, and I shall return the same way, for I cannot be bored with passenger chatter. I came to ask a favor."

"If possible, it is done. If impossible it shall be done. That's the way to answer Queens and Presidents. Speak, Ulysses."

"Firstly, however, I want you to say something civil for me to John Bull. Say that I have some more of that difficult steering to do, and that I may not at present see fit to express for him all the good feeling I entertain. But my watchword is 'Peace,' and Mr. Reverdy Johnson does but amplify the sentiments all really good Americans have for you. In my name, if you will be so good, return John Bull my best wishes for a happy Christmas, but give a finger only, until—you comprehend?"

"Thus," said Mr. Punch, dashing off a sketch with Keene-like facility.

"Just that brave! And now, old man, give me your fifty fifth volume."

"I foresaw your wish. It is here, inscribed—

TIRESIAS TO ULYSSES."

Perhaps they didn't quaff and fume until a late hour!

PROOF READING.—A writer in the Galaxy gives some interesting incidents of typographical errors. He mentions one edition of the Bible which contains 6,000 mistakes. He gives the following example of the difficulty in the way of getting out a perfect book. Some Professors of the University at Edinburgh resolved to publish a book which should be a model of typographical accuracy. Six proof readers were employed, and after it was thought to be perfect the sheets were posted up in the hall of the University, and a reward of $250 was offered for every mistake that should be discovered. When the book was printed it was found that it contained several errors, one being in the title page, another in the first line of the first chapter. The only books that are believed to be entirely free from errors are an Oxford edition of the Bible, a London and Lepsic Horace and an American reprint of Dante.

MRS LINCOLN'S GRAVE.—The Louisville Democrat says: It is stated that in the wild woods of Spencer county, Indiana, unmarked by slab and unprotected from desecration by animals, is the grave of the mother of President Lincoln. The neighbors declare there is no doubt with reference to its identity. Mrs Lincoln was buried between two oak trees only separated from each other a distance sufficient to allow the grave to be dug lengthwise between them. The trees and the grave remain to-day as when first the [illegible] was buried, only that the trees are a great deal larger and the grave has sunken to such an extent as to destroy all appearance of a grave.

A man in Berlin made a bet in New Year's [illegible] in the window [illegible] for four hours without moving, for that space of time taking the place of the regular [illegible] figure. He [illegible] [illegible] with a sheet wearing a huge wig [illegible] by a fox cap. A great crowd gathered and [illegible] exertions were made to cause him to show signs of life, but they were unavailing. At the close of the four hours he arose to his feet, bowed gravely to the crowd and retired.

A Judge got a rather severe retort from a woman recently. His personal appearance is as [illegible] prepossessing as his legal knowledge is profound, and his intellect keen and searching. He interrupted the witness: "Humbugged you [illegible] woman, what do you mean by that?" [illegible] sternly. "Well, your honor," replied the woman, "I don't know how to explain exactly, but if a girl called your honor a handsome man, I should [illegible] be humbugging you." [illegible] was [illegible]

It is again reported from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, that the new process of making iron direct from the casting furnace, without puddling, is a complete success.

Minnesota farmers are raising fences. They use cottonwood, gray willow, white maple, black oak and white plum. From three to five years are sufficient to raise a live fence.

A boy in Michigan recently had his leg amputated, and a few days afterward said that the great toe of the amputated limb was cramped, and that it pained him, and insisted that his father should disinter the amputated limb and straighten the toe. To quiet him, his wishes were complied with, and he said he was relieved from the pain.

"Aunty," said a sentimental neice to a bereaved widow, "now you're prosperous and well to do, let us get some pretty tombstones for good Uncle Daniel; you know he has none at his grave." Aunt Keziah lifted up her hands and emphasized this touching expression: "Jane, if they want anything of Daniel at the Judgment, they can find him without a guide board. I tell you he'll be there in time."

Fashionable Immodesty

(From Putnam's Monthly for February.)

Dick French, worn roue that he is, has joined the school of the critic of the Saturday Review. He asserts that all women are represented by these. He hints that he understands the lures that these demi-vie belles put forth. "It's cursed hard on a fellow," he says. "The extravagance of these women won't allow a man to marry, yet they tempt him to do it with all the arts of the worst of the demi monde." Then he and his compeers adjust their eye glasses and lean against doorways, criticising the paces of the delicate young girls who are whirling past as a trader might the slaves in the market.

French goes too far. My little Nellie is not in the market. She has her secret innocent dream of true love and marriage some day hid away in her heart. There is not one of the French crew whom she would marry. When she unclothes herself immodestly and surrenders her person to their touch she has no ulterior purpose beyond the intoxicating pleasures of the moment. Custom has made her eyes familiar with indecency—worn away the defensive instinct of purity with which every woman is born, but that is the worst that can be said of her. Yet if her own blood be such ice that the exposure of her person has no power to bring a blush to her cheek, does it matter nothing to her that pleased, unclean eyes rest on her, that half of the men who look on her mistake her motives and pity the degradation she undergoes in order to please them?

I use coarse language. The times are coarse. The state of society which can make a Swinburne possible can bear a few plain words without detriment to its modesty. It is true that the evil is as yet confined to our large cities. God forbid that the fashionable fast girl of New York or Chicago should be received as the typical woman of America. She bears the same proportion to the women of the States that the feverish outbreak on the face does to the whole healthy sweet-blooded body. But this society assumes to stand foremost in refinement and culture, and cannot object to have its claims tested. Besides, the feverish taint will spread.

Men I think have some claim to be heard in this matter. The most debased among them will hold one thing sacred—the honor of his wife. He has a right to demand that it come to him untainted. Dull and plain fellow as is John, he has a right to claim from the woman whom he marries, and from the mother who rears her, that she shall not have been put in the market to parade her shape like an animal, that she shall not have had her person handled by every roue who frequents the ball room, that he shall not receive her hackneyed and brazen from flirtations, and that her mind shall be clean as her body.

British Expenditures.

Although the United States can boast of a magnificent public debt and not the greatest economy in public expenditures, it can certainly lay no claim to profuse liberality in the salaries accorded to the Executive Department of the government in comparison with those pertaining to British royalty. The Philadelphia Press gives in detail the various sums which Queen Victoria and her family annually draw from the treasury of England. The figures are as follows:

Queen Victoria's Privy Purse	£385,000
From the Duchy of Lancaster	25,000	£410,000

WOMAN.—In a recent speech Mr Gladstone drew a distinction between the words womanly and womanish. Womanly is an almost reverential epithet. It implies goodness, tenderness, fidelity. "Unwomanly rags" was the strongest phrase Hood could find for expressing a garb which unsexed its wearer. An unwomanly woman means a monstrosity, while true womanly pity or real womanly sympathy is a something which goes straight to the heart of all who have suffered or are suffering. To be womanish is consistent with talent and genius, though there are many clever works whose womanishness is not preeminent. In short, to be womanly should be the best grace of woman, and the epithet, if applied to men as it is in rare instances and under circumstances which are exceptional, conveys an impression of goodness of heart, of a nature unspotted by the world, and of trustworthiness unsullied and complete. Womanishness is the reverse of all this. It conveys the Oriental or brute notion of women: puppets coy, frightened, useless, and without soul or brains—creatures to be used as playthings by the superior animal and to be thrown aside—beings whose humanity is devoid of all that makes humanity holy, such are the womanish women of the seraglios of the East—such is the contemptuous meaning the adjective bears here. To speak of an Englishman as womanish is to hold him up to the utterest contempt.

An old minister the other day asked a woman what could be done to induce her husband to attend church. "I don't know," she replied, "unless you were to put a pipe and a jug of whisky in the pew."

Legal Tenders at San Francisco 75½@77¼.

From the Commercial Herald, we take the following article regarding the effect of the recent legal tender decision by the Supreme Court We have been advised, by telegraph, that the United States Supreme Court has decided to the following effect Greenbacks and coin are both legal tenders, but that specific contracts for payments in coin cannot be satisfied with greenbacks This is a virtual extension to all the States and Territories of the Union of the Specific Contract Law of which California was the originator and has been the tread er [illegible] It has all the force and effect of an Act of Congress [illegible] the gold contracts, and is the first step toward placing our financial system upon a specie basis Had Government announced its intention to resume specie payments at a fixed date, the Treasury would soon have been depleted of its coin, but this decision actually forces early [illegible], while it leaves paper currency in the market as before As a natural sequence, currency cannot hold its own against gold and silver when placed [illegible] them in open market, and must decline in value unless artificial measures are employed to sustain its grip. Mark the result! The day following the receipt of the foregoing dispatch, the telegraph announced the following: "Currency is being locked up in immense amounts, and the money market is very stringent." Here, then, is the first great struggle of currency to [illegible] It is universally known that there is not gold and silver coin enough in the United States [illegible] operations, and that resort must be had to paper To prevent the sudden depreciation of currency which would seriously cripple its holders [illegible] is "locked up in immense amounts," and the market rendered extremely stringent to [illegible] a demand, even at a [illegible]"

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or [illegible] absorbed into the system? Look at their [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life In this horrid state [illegible] endeavor until death closes the scene. Let guardians, friends, attend to those who are [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying maladies— they are cured for and cured before it be too late [illegible] them immediately to Doctor Gibbon who has made private diseases his especial study for [illegible] is certain to cure the most inveterate cases [illegible] cury or any injurious drugs It is important to [illegible] who are afflicted, or to those who are [illegible] welfare of their friends to be careful of the [illegible] tended doctors who infest all cities, publishing [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse or solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited [illegible] producing with unerring certainty, the following [illegible] of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots [illegible] the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears, and the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, bloated intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in [illegible] [illegible] strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, [illegible] flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue foetid breath, coughs consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief is not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure [illegible] by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails to effect a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] rily to him that he was cured of this complaint by [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are [illegible] under any of these [illegible] maladies should not [illegible] sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay [illegible] obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give the patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use for Ten Dollars sent [illegible] registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, wh[illegible] [illegible] the names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places [illegible] and became the [illegible] to work at their trade [illegible] shoemakers newspaper carriers [illegible] etc [illegible] Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their [illegible] at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 [illegible] to avoid being [illegible] is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets [illegible] advertising [illegible] there is no safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive [illegible] [illegible] calls at his office at his [illegible] diseases that he [illegible] to cure

DALLES ITEMS.—We find the following items in the Mountaineer of yesterday: The Public School has experienced another change in Professors; Rev. Mr. Miller, from Wisconsin, took charge of the First Department last Monday......The steamer Idaho, Capt. McNulty, has already, this season, brought up the river over one thousand head of stock; also quite a number of families......The Columbia river is lower at this point than has been remembered for a number of years......Mr. Benj. Snipes, of this city, sold to Mr. T. G. Murry, of [illegible], W. T., fifty head of beef cattle at eight cents per pound, they averaging six hundred pounds each. They will be driven to the Victoria, B. C., market......We learn that Dr. Wythe, of Portland, will lecture before the Ladies' Aid Society of this place, at the Congregational Church, on Tuesday evening next. The subject of the lecture is announced to be "A Drop of Water"......Yesterday being the 4th of March, our citizens [illegible] to keep times lively by firing anvils, etc., and let everybody know that the people of this community know when Inauguration Day comes. Flags were flying and [illegible] exhibited, reminding one much of the Fourth of July......St. Lawrence Morgan, a blooded horse lately [illegible] from St. Lawrence county, New York, died last week of colic at Mr. W. D. Gilliam's on Fifteen Mile Creek. He was the property of Mr. P. T. Sharp, of Grant county, Oregon, who had just purchased him, for the large sum of $3,000......A great number of dogs have been found dead upon our streets and alleys during the past week, supposed to have been poisoned.

BRIEF [illegible].—The bridge across Tanner creek has been nearly completed, by building on at either end the new [illegible]. The excavation of B street, just this side of the bridge is also nearly done......Some of the aprons from sidewalks to the street pavement, provided for by the Council recently, have been laid down... They are a [illegible] improvement, though being built of two-inch plank, they will soon be broken down by teams...... [illegible] was all the go [illegible]. The boys are on it. Several of them already propel the two wheel [illegible] with considerable dexterity. Quite a number of persons have been ordered. Mr. [illegible] Sutton has [illegible] one for himself, which in general principles is like the San Francisco machine. It is heavier and [illegible] and has an improved [illegible]. The steamer Ori[illegible] [illegible] up, on her last trip, 450 tons of [illegible]......The weather, yesterday, was again calm, mild and [illegible]......The Willamette [illegible] are bringing down daily an immense amount of freight......The [illegible] is well supplied with most descriptions of early spring vegetables from California. Butter is scarce and high. The greater part of that used is from California or the [illegible], a fact not at all creditable to our farmers......The base ball season seems to have opened with fervor. Its prospects for the clubs of this city......Retail [illegible] are complaining of very dull times......Our city hotels are again crowded full.

[illegible].—We clip the subjoined items from the [illegible]: We learn from Hon. J. M. Fletcher, Register of the Land Office at Vancouver, that during the month of [illegible], 1869, 6,050 acres were sold at private entry, realizing $7,489 to the Government. During the same period 2,781 acres were taken by seventeen [illegible], of which eleven reside in Walla Walla [illegible], four in Clark county, one in Cowlitz and one in Yakima county. One hundred and sixty acres were [illegible] and three donation certificates were [illegible] to the foregoing there were 2,240 acres [illegible] in this district with Agricultural College scrip, issued by the State of Tennessee. The grand total [illegible] to 12,301 acres, which is doing a "Land Office [illegible]." We learn from other sources that a large portion of the land was entered by Mr. F. Drew, as agent for the [illegible] Mill Company, who, it is said, [illegible] the best portion of the most valuable [illegible] land in the Territory, for the purpose of securing the [illegible] of the lumber trade......Capt. Clay, 23d [illegible], is now commanding the post at Fort Vancouver. He is a [illegible] officer, and has inaugurated many new [illegible]......[illegible] was floating from every flagstaff and [illegible] of private residences and stores in this city on Thursday, March 4th, in honor of the inauguration of Grant and Colfax.

[illegible] INTELLIGENCE.—The following religious intelligence is from the [illegible]: The subject of the sermon [illegible] in the 1st M. E. Church, by Dr. Wythe, will be "The invisible world revealed by Jesus [illegible]." Rev. [illegible], Presiding Elder of [illegible], of March 1st: "The second [illegible] at Salo. Sixty-two have been [illegible] dur[illegible] [illegible] J. S. Mc[illegible] [illegible] the revival at [illegible] weather was very bad, the [illegible] had badly [illegible] in the effort; but [illegible] and [illegible] our efforts, and the result was [illegible] [illegible]ions and 17 [illegible]."

SALEM [illegible].—We clip the following items from the [illegible] of [illegible]: The [illegible] of the Alumni association of the Willamette University, Medical Department, took place in the chapel of the University building, on W[illegible], as advertised. The [illegible] was [illegible] by a large [illegible]......Night [illegible], last or rather [illegible] morning, a lot of persons unknown, began ringing all the church and school bells in concert. The whole city was up and on the streets, hurrying hither and [illegible], to find out the cause of the alarm. All sorts of conjectures were hatched up, that the city was on fire; that the penitentiary convicts had escaped, and many other surmises. We could learn yesterday no definite [illegible] the disturbers of the city's quiet had for [illegible] [illegible] that a post m[illegible] ex[illegible] is being had over the body of Mrs. McAfee, before [illegible] jury. The examination will not probably be [illegible] for several days......Messrs. Lute Savage and Jas. [illegible] will advertise this morning that they will pay a reward of $150 for the arrest of John Whitney.

[illegible].—A San Francisco market report [illegible] on the [illegible] trade of the North Pacific coast [illegible], however, far too small: "Last year [illegible] cases of salmon, in the cans, were put [illegible] to Great Britain, to the East, Australia [illegible] have not yet been received [illegible], but present indications [illegible] capital is being invested in [illegible] this year's catch. Probably 100,000 cases of two pound cans will be put up in 1869. This is in addition to the amount packed in barrels and half barrels, of which many thousand packages have been marketed without any great profits [illegible]. The capital employed in the salmon [illegible] is $250,000. Operations are principally carried on upon the Columbia, Eel and Klamath rivers; also in the waters of British Columbia.

[illegible] SUPPOSED TO BE DROWNED.—A letter was received in this city night before last, from Boise City, giving an account of the disappearance of Mr. John [illegible], of the firm of [illegible] & Co., of Boise City. About a month ago he went out to hunt for some cattle and when last seen was going toward the [illegible] of Boise river. Nothing has since been learned of his fate, and the horse he was riding has been found, and it is supposed he was drowned in attempting to [illegible] the [illegible]. His wife and mother-in-law, who reside in this city, started for Boise [illegible] day morning, to [illegible] the affair.

A NEW VELOCIPEDAL IDEA.—Since our boys have come to ride the two wheel velocipede, there is already talk of a one wheel affair and we have in the city one applicant for a [illegible]. Jack Knott, however, who is getting somewhat [illegible] as a velocipedist, has invented a machine which he says is to go without any wheel at all. It will go with a "[illegible]!" The only difficulty about its entire [illegible] is that there is nothing to hitch the break [illegible] a little ahead.

U. S. [illegible] COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—Proceedings of [illegible] 5th:

United States vs. steamship Fidelitar motion by libel[illegible] [illegible] Heel, allowed, and trial commenced; testimony not closed. Cartwright and Dolph for the United States, [illegible], Brockway and Page for claimant.

[illegible] Jury came in and presented one indictment, endorsed a true bill; order for bench warrant to issue.

[illegible]—"SWALLOW."—The name of the little [illegible] launched day before yesterday is the Swallow. She is [illegible] by Messrs. A. Vallard and G. B. Underwood and is being built by Mr. J. Bulger. Her length is forty-five feet, beam, eleven feet and six inches, and depth of hold, three feet. The engines, from New York, [illegible] for whale fishing. It is designed to run her in [illegible] and Wallamet and their tributaries as a trading boat selling merchandise and buying produce.

WASHINGTON GUARD'S ELECTION.—The annual election for officers of the Washington Guard, took place at their armory last evening, with the following result: Captain, Charles S. Mills; 1st. Lt., Wm. Young; 2d Lt., Jas. Lotan; 1st Sergt., S. V. Fuller; 2d Sergt., H. Cook; 3d Sergt., H. Sabin; 4th Sergt., Chas. C. McCreadie; Color Sergt., H. W. Heath.

LAMP EXPLOSION.—A lamp which was being used in the picture gallery of Mr. McJulian, Front street, yesterday, exploded, and scattering the burning fluid in every direction, came near setting the establishment on fire. The flames were, however, fortunately smothered out by a judicious use of blankets.

MUSIC, PICTURES, ETC.—Mr. W. T. Shanahan returned from San Francisco by the Oriflamme, and has now open a large and particularly fine assortment of musical instruments, pictures, and a great variety of other "things of beauty" in his line. See his advertisement.

SHAKESPEAREAN READING.—Pierre Thayer, of the Bates Troupe, has gone to Salem to give some Shakespearean readings. We shall hope to hear of favorable results.

THE SUNDAY SERVICE in the Theater will be unavoidably [illegible] to-morrow evening, the room being under repairs.

RESIGNATION.—John Costello, County Assessor, has tendered his resignation, on account of the insufficiency of his pay, and intends to remove to Salem.

THEATRICAL.—Mr. J. B. Robinson and wife and George Bird and wife are playing at Vancouver, assisted by several amateurs. The Register puffs them immensely.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The case of the State of Oregon vs. D. F. Fox, was argued yesterday, and submitted to the jury.

CATHOLIC LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—This association will have a meeting at the Library room, on Sunday at 2 o'clock.

TO SAIL.—The steamship Oriflamme will sail for San Francisco at 11 o'clock A. M., on Sunday the 7th.

Mr Henry Barhydt of this city, from a photograph of Bulman's celebrated picture. It strikes us as being a production of remarkable merit. The coloring is particularly good. The picture is painted on glass set in a casement, to be used for the double purpose of a transom and sign over Tom Moffit's saloon, Front street. Mr Barhydt has painted several pictures which would rank high by comparison with the works of the Pacific coast artists, and this picture is certainly one among his best.

YE VELOCIPEDE.—We understand there is a bet of $1,000 pending on the result of Mr. Fred. Coster's trip to California on a velocipede. One of the parties to the wager claiming that it is impossible to cross Scott Mountain with a velocipede, on account of the steepness of the grade, the other party thinks it can be done, and what is more backs his opinion with the coin. We await the result with some interest, as it will in a measure demonstrate to what extent the velocipede can be used as a practical means of locomotion.

SAW MILL BURNED.—During Thursday night the saw mill owned by Mr. Stephens, known as Kelly's mill was destroyed by fire. The workmen had been burning slabs, and being careless, the flames communicated with the building. There was also some lumber burned but we are not able to state the amount of loss.

NEW UNIFORMS.—The members of the Mechanics' Brass Band are to have new uniforms in time to be worn on St. Patrick's Day, on which occasion they are engaged by the Hibernian Association of this city. The new uniforms are being now made at Barman's merchant tailoring establishment.

MASONIC.—On the 3d inst. Washington Lodge, U. D. A. F. and A. M. was duly organized at East Portland, under charge of A. B. Richardson, D. G. W. The officers are, I. W. Pratt W. M.; A. M. Loryea S. D.; Martin Elam, J. D.; J. M. Mack Sec.; John Bowman Treas.; O. Perham, Tyler.

DEGREES CONFERRED.—The degree of M. D. has been this week conferred upon Edward H. Alexander, Benj. F. Bond, Asbury O. Helm, Charles H. Rafferty, Wm. H. Roberts, Wm. H. Taylor, Wm. M. Smith, Samuel D. McCauley, Samuel W. McDowell, by the Wallamet University.

PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL!

A Family Remedy, recommended by its merits. Every Bottle its own testimonial! Use it externally for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Lame Back, Sprains, Bruises, Stiff and Swollen Joints, Pleurisy, Sore Throat, Diptheria, Head-ache and Tooth-ache. Take it internally for Colic, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, and all Bowel Complaints. PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL does not claim to cure "all the ills to which flesh is heir," but it does claim superiority, inasmuch as it is better adapted to more prevalent ailments than any remedy in use. Circulars with full directions around each bottle. Price 50 cts. and $1 00 per bottle. For sale by all Druggists.

PRATT'S NEW LIFE!

Cures Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Kidney Complaints, purifies the Blood, eradicates all Scrofulous and Cutaneous Eruptions, such as Boils, Blotches, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Ring Worm, Pimples, heals Old Sores, strengthens the Stomach, invigorates the Liver, and regulates the Bowels. An infallible remedy for Piles, and Dyspepsia. Price $1 00 per bottle. For sale by all Druggists.

Dancing Academy.—Prof. McCann's Dancing Academy is open every evening in the week, excepting Wednesday, for the reception of pupils. Corner of Front and Alder streets. Class for children half past one Saturday afternoon.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these timekeepers.

More than 400,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enable them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch, merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

We are now selling Waltham Watches at less prices in greenbacks, than the gold prices before the war. There is no other manufacture of any kind in the United States of which this can be said.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country, or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring timekeeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's Patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps protecting the movement from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary to other watches.

Our new patent stem winder, or keyless watch, is already a decided success and a great improvement on any stem winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public.

To CALIFORNIANS and others living in portions of the United States, where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements which tend to insure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

Every watch bearing the trade mark of Waltham is guaranteed to be a thoroughly reliable timekeeper.

To prevent imposition buyers should invariably demand a certificate of genuineness.

The trade supplied by Messrs. R. B. GRAY & CO., San Francisco, Cal., and generally for sale at retail by all respectable dealers.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

SATURDAY MORNING MARCH 6 1869

The Inaugural Address

We like the Inaugural Address. It is moderate dignified and judicious. There is no trained attempt at fine writing. In its leading feature that relating to the finances its utterances are admirable. It does the honest heart of the country good to hear these high minded sentiments put forth in place of the base propositions lately enunciated by the dishonorable demagogue who has just quit the White House. The sacredness of the debt the inviolability of the national honor were never urged in better chosen or more timely words. The pledge of strict honesty in the revenue and of economy in expenditures the country will expect to see carried out so far as the President has power to do it. In asserting his independence in the position he holds, in declaring his purpose to urge his views in matters of public interest, and in stating that he will use his constitutional power to defeat measures which he may oppose, but that all laws shall be faithfully executed whether he approves them or not, he shows that he has a clear perception of the constitutional duties of the Executive. An adherence to these principles,—and Grant is a man who does not say one thing and mean another,—will make his administration a most popular and successful one. The address breathes a spirit exactly in unison with the loyal sentiment of the country, and the party which carried the nation through the great war will be universally satisfied with these first utterances of the President they have chosen.

Dishonest Journalism

To support its position that only two-thirds of the public debt at the close of the Revolution was paid, and that the other one-third was "equitably" repudiated by the Government, the Herald gives the following, which it says is the fourth section of the act "making provision for the payment of the debt of the United States," approved August 4th, 1790

> And be it further enacted, That for the whole or any part of any sum subscribed to said loan, by any person or persons, or body politic, which shall be paid in the principal of said domestic debt, the subscriber or subscribers shall be entitled to a certificate purporting that the United States owe to the [illegible] holders thereof, his, her or their assigns, a sum to be expressed therein, equal to two-thirds of the sum so paid, bearing an interest of six per cent. per annum.

The Herald has, with dishonest intent, quoted only a small part of the fourth section of the act. The part it has quoted made provision for two-thirds of the debt, and the remaining part of the same section made provision for the other one-third. After declaring as above that subscribers to the new loan should be entitled to a certificate equal to two-thirds of the old stock, the same section of the act provided that they should also be entitled,—

> To another certificate, purporting that the United States owe to the holder or holders thereof, his, her or their assigns, a sum to be expressed therein, equal to [illegible] dollars and one third of a [illegible] as a balance of the sum so paid, which, after the year 1800 shall bear an interest of six per cent. per annum.

Here the other one-third of the debt was provided for. The only difference between the two parts of the debt was that the interest on the last one-third was not to begin till the year 1800. No creditor was obliged to subscribe to this loan. If he preferred he could keep his original stock, and the Government remained pledged to its payment just as before. The ninth section of the act provided as follows

> Be it further enacted, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed in any wise to alter, abridge or impair the rights of those creditors of the United States who shall not subscribe to said loan, or the contracts upon which their respective claims are founded, but the said contracts and claims shall remain in full force and virtue.

An [illegible], the argument in favor of the new loan was that the act made [illegible] for the interest, while the [illegible] had to depend for [illegible] on annual [illegible]. The [illegible] to show that [illegible] of the debt of the Revolution was repudiated by the First Congress was an [illegible] into which it was led by the New York World; but its persistence in the [illegible] is downright dishonesty of purpose. It knows better. It has evidently [illegible] the funding act of 1790, because it tries to [illegible] its provision by quoting a fragment of a section of that act and omitting the remainder. Is this what the Herald would call honest and reputable journalism?

A New Phase of the "Chinese Question."

A perusal of the following extract from the San Francisco Call will show the reader what unconscionable fools Democratic editors can be when they try:

> Recent events prove that the Chinese are not slow to avail themselves of their rights and privileges under the treaty. The religion of the Chinese authorizes and teaches them to buy and sell their women as if they were so many sheep and dogs. By the Burlingame treaty this old, vital and well established creed of the Chinese religious faith is made a law of this land—a law [illegible]. Under it, the importation of Chinese women is rapidly increasing. [illegible] of the Pacific States do not—discarding all minor considerations—at once arouse themselves in active opposition to the evil with which we are now threatened by the insanity of Radical politicians, this broad and fair territory will soon be overrun by the vilest of races, who will hold the balance of political power, and thus doom Republican government to such a depth of infamy that the role of a Spanish Bourbon would be paradisiacal in comparison.

The Oregon Herald catches up the echo and chimes in this style:

> The regular system adopted by the more wealthy Chinese residents of San Francisco availing themselves of the privileges of the Radical treaty with China, of importing slave prostitutes to this coast, and the recent disgraceful and riotous demonstration on the occasion of a late reception of a ship load of female slaves is awakening eyes in the minds of some of the more sensible of the universal brotherhood party some misgivings as to the ultimate and logical result of their fine spun and moonshine theories

Now the fact is that this "Radical treaty with China" gives no right to "import slave prostitutes" which did not exist before the treaty was made. Under former Democratic treaties they could be brought here and were brought here the same as now. The number of arrivals has probably been greater during the last year or two than before but this is owing to the constantly increasing intercourse between the two countries. These Chinese prostitutes come into the country on the same terms with other persons, that is the United States does not and cannot know them as prostitutes, but only as persons from China who have had a right to come here ever since the Democrats gave us the first treaty of peace, amity and commerce with that nation. If they are carrying on their infamous trade in California or Oregon it is not only in the power, but it is the duty of the local authorities to adopt stringent measures to prevent and punish them. Why don't the Democratic rulers of San Francisco do their duty? The Chinese in this country are strictly subject to our laws, and the Call's assertion, which the Herald endorses, that by the recent treaty or any other treaty any Chinese custom regulation or religious belief is made a law of this land is so perfectly absurd that no one but a Democratic editor would make it. Those papers are certainly hard up for material to make party capital of.

The Farce at Salem

On Thursday the long talked of "Fourth of March Session" took place at Salem. Five Senators and thirteen Representatives answered the roll call about one fourth of the members of each House. This handful of stragglers sent word to the Governor that they were there and wanted to know what he was going to do about it. We have no information that he has yet responded to this highly important communication. He will probably permit them to remain in session as long as they choose or at least as long as the Salem hotels will trust them for their board. Not half the Democratic members of either House were present. We suppose the Governor will take no notice whatever of this contemptible fragment which calls itself a Legislature. The farce is more complete than we supposed it could be. And this is the "Fourth of March Session" which the Democracy have been so many months preparing for! We shall look to Beriah's paper for some sage remarks on the situation.

Small Notes

Primogeniture is actually discussed pro and con in the London Times. Once that was impossible. The Times itself is appealed to not to discuss it, but, while it replies that that would be to say it cannot bear scrutiny, it yet pronounces it an unavertable "question of the day."

One hundred and sixteen newspapers have one side printed at the office of the Milwaukee Wisconsin. The most of these journals are published in Wisconsin Minnesota and Illinois, but Indiana, Iowa, Michigan Ohio Kentucky, and even Maryland West Virginia and New York are represented in the list. The aggregate circulation of the whole is 98,500.

The friends of law and order in Tennessee are encouraged by the success of the Arkansas movement to enforce domestic peace, and are responding with a will to the call of Gov Brownlow. The State Guard is being actively recruited and the Ku-Klux and their sympathizers perceive that business is meant. They will be still better satisfied on that point in all parts of the South, now that Grant is President.

It is stated that such of the private papers of the late President Lincoln as have any public interest are to be given to the world by his executor, Judge Davis, of the Supreme Court. When these shall appear we may safely predict an unanimous public judgment that there has been none, among the great men of all time, the private record of whose official or personal career would more safely defy posthumous criticism.

It is easy to see that the Democracy everywhere will be greatly displeased with President Grant's inaugural address. His utterance in behalf of honesty in the treatment of the national debt will keep them howling for a month to come. And his emphatic remark in favor of the suffrage amendment won't help matters any with them. The Democracy, we fear, will be compelled to go on growling for the next ten years as they have done for the last ten.

Upon the Congressional tables rests a petition, from quarters entitled at least to a considerate audience, for the extension of the privileges now conferred by the patent laws upon mechanical inventors, to the originators of new processes and to the discoverers of new products in agriculture and its kindred departments of horticulture and floriculture. It strikes us that the originator of a new grain or root, of a new vine, fruit, or even flower is quite as much entitled to protection under the laws as the genius who accomplishes something novel in apple-parers, mouse-traps, or suspender-buckles.

Recently in the Senate, in answer to satirical remarks of Mr Dixon about the extremely rapid progress of the Republican party, Mr. Morton, of Indiana, asked him whether anybody had charged the Democratic party with making any progress whatever since the beginning of the war. Mr. Dixon replied that much as it might surprise the Senator the accusation had been made, and he had seen it charged in a late paper, that the Democratic party of Connecticut had abandoned its old doctrine in regard to the payment of bonds and had declared in favor of paying them in gold (Laughter)

The insurrection in Cuba, it is expected, will considerably diminish the production of sugar. That island now produces one-third of all the sugar consumed in the world, which is estimated at 2,299,600 tons, showing for that "Gem of the Antilles" a production of 776,533 tons for the year 1868. At six cents a pound this would be worth $93,183,960, being the revenue from this one article, besides which Cuba supplies large quantities of molasses, coffee, indigo, cigars, leaf tobacco, wax, honey, mahogany, rum and fruit, probably worth $50,000,000 more, making a gross aggregate production of $143,000,000 in round numbers.

The country is again reminded of the sainted Floyd, who as Secretary of War under Buchanan, organized the Southern rebellion. The Supreme Court has declared illegal and void his acceptances of the drafts of Russell Majors and Waddell, contractors, for the transportation of supplies during the Utah war. The Treasury was swindled out of countless millions by operations of this sort during Buchanan's term, and the rascality of that period is still coming to light. Floyd's acceptances in this case reach the sum of $640 400 a very pretty amount to be saved to the Treasury. Oh yes! it's our Democratic brethren who are so honest in managing public affairs!

The poor rag at Salem is now trying its hand at abusing and defaming Governor Woods. It seems to think that he can be coerced by vituperation. [illegible] wheedling and coaxing in the [illegible] him to respond to the demand of the [illegible] heads and call the Legislature. It addressed him in the language of fulsome adulation which he treated with contempt. It [illegible] him and we predict that the result will be the same. A short time since it praised him as a man most reliable and fit to be Governor; it now denounces him for what it calls "the foolish and vacillating course of the present occupant of the gubernatorial chair." Now as he has steadily refused to call an extra session and as the poor rag has been alternately lauding and abusing him to get him to do it which has pursued the "vacillating course?" We have no further space to waste on the poor rag.

SENT TO THE ASYLUM.—Mary D More of Grant county went crazy from too much study of the Bible and was a few days since placed in the Asylum at East Portland.

DATES TO MARCH 5.

Inauguration Day and Ceremonies

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The day dawned rainy. The [illegible] of procession was soon thronged. Grant arrived at his quarters at 9 o'clock and congratulatory dispatches from members of the Berlin Exchange were handed him. Colfax arrived at headquarters at 11 A M and went to Grant's office. The troops and military organizations were formed and Grant entered the carriage with Rawlins. [illegible] was in the next carriage with Admiral Porter.

The procession started the band playing "Hail to the Chief." The troops were drawn up along the square and presented arms as the carriage of the President elect passed, amid the cheers and enthusiasm. Eight grand lines were in the procession. First regulars under General [illegible] followed, escorting the President elect. [illegible] volunteers including the colored organizations, city officers of the Government, foreign Ministers, Presidential electors, officers of the Army and Navy, marines, authorities of Washington, Georgetown and other places, Republican organizations, soldiers and sailors and fire department. The head of the procession reached the Capitol when Grant entered to take the oath and deliver the inaugural. The crowd in the front was the greatest ever before witnessed here. The procession was an hour in passing a given point.

The diplomatic corps and other guests arrived. The diplomats came in a body and attracted attention by the splendor of their uniforms and their dignified bearing. The Ministers of foreign nations were all present except Baron Gerolt of Prussia, who was detained by sickness. Among those particularly noticed, were Thornton of England Berthemy of the French legation Cerruti of the Italian and Blaque Bey, the Turkish Minister. The President and Vice President entered by a side door arm in arm with Cragin and McCreery, the committee to escort them to the chamber. Before they reached the space in front of the Chair the door of the main entrance opened and the Justices of the Supreme Court headed by Chief Justice Chase, and clad in their robes of office entered and took their seats in front of the rostrum. Grant was conducted to a chair in front of the Clerk's desk facing the audience. He exhibited his usual self possession. A seat to the left of Grant was in readiness for Johnson but was not occupied. The latter was not at the Capitol this morning, but signed bills at the White House.

The presiding officer announced his readiness for the inauguration. Vice President Colfax advanced, and the oath was administered to him by the presiding officer. Colfax delivered an address at the conclusion of which the Senators elect came forward as their names were called and took the oath, which was administered by Colfax. The organization of the Senate being completed the procession was formed and the occupants of the floor proceeded to the east portico to witness the ceremonies of inauguration. The platform was decorated with evergreens, the pillars wreathed with flags and an immense crowd was in front with enthusiasm, music cannon, etc. Near Grant sat Dent, Sharp and Casey. Chief Justice Chase administered the oath, and Grant advanced and delivered his inaugural after which he entered a carriage and proceeded to the White House. The Senators returned to their chambers and resumed the session, which was soon adjourned to twelve o'clock to-morrow.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The House met at three P M and was called to order by McPherson the clerk. Absentees—Cox of New York, Kelly, of Pennsylvania, Morgan of Ohio, Hamilton, of Florida, and the States of New Hampshire Connecticut, Virginia Georgia Alabama Mississippi Louisiana and Texas, and the Third and Fourth Districts of South Carolina not present.

Washburne moved to proceed to the election of Speaker.

Brooks raised the point of order that the clerk had not called the members from Georgia and Louisiana. The clerk overruled Brooks, who appealed, and the clerk refused to entertain the appeal. A scene of confusion, uproar and excitement commenced, and the [illegible] to result in a general row.

Brooks, at the top of his voice, asserted his right to appeal from the tyranny of the Clerk.

Washburne demanded that the Clerk proceed to call the roll. The Clerk attempted to do so.

Brooks said he was a member of the House and had a right to appeal.

The Clerk directed the gentleman from New York to take his seat.

Brooks declared that "the gentleman from New York" would not. He said the Clerk was acting without authority. [Great excitement and loud calling for "order."]

Washburne demanded that the Clerk put the question of nomination of a Speaker. He nominated Blaine.

Brooks continued appealing, but his voice was drowned in shouts of "call the roll!"

The Clerk again directed Brooks to take his seat.

Brooks defiantly refused, and a long altercation ensued between the Clerk and Brooks, Jones, of Kentucky, Eldridge and others joining in aid of Brooks.

Logan wanted the Sergeant-at-arms to arrest Brooks.

Brooks said there was none.

Logan—"We'll do it ourselves."

Brooks defied Logan to make the arrest.

The Clerk called Woodward and Voorhees to take their places as tellers. Woodward complied, but Voorhees being reluctant, Woodward returned to his seat and made a conciliatory speech.

The Clerk said he had no desire when he made his decision to do violence to the feelings of anybody. He regretted that any decision of his should be regarded as an invasion of personal rights.

Brooks was satisfied and all became quiet.

Randall nominated Michael Kerr. The vote stood, Blaine 136 Kerr, 55.

McPherson declared Blaine elected and Blaine made a speech.

When the New York members were about to take the oath, Schenck called attention to the case of Reeves who had been reported as having aided the rebellion as the publisher of a paper in the State of New York, but submitted no motion and Reeves was sworn in.

Objection was made to Hamill of Maryland, Winchester and Rice, of Kentucky, Van Horn and Dyer who were not sworn.

All the members and delegates, with the exceptions named having taken the oath the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON March 5.—The Senate yesterday, confirmed W C Rowell for Attorney of Arizona, Horace Fox for Consul to Trinidad, James Hasspoot for Postmaster of Hays City, Commodore Powell for Rear Admiral.

The galleries of the Senate and House were densely crowded and many were unable to procure an entrance who were anxious to hear the announcement of the Cabinet.

W D Todd is appointed Secretary to Vice President Colfax.

The House sent a message and notified the Senate that the House was organized.

A resolution was passed to swear Dyer and Van Horn of Missouri, and they were admitted on a similar resolution.

Hamill of Missouri was also sworn.

Washington News

WASHINGTON March 4.—Grant was met at the White House by General Schofield who had been left by Johnson in charge of the Executive office. Johnson left the White House at noon with his Cabinet except Schofield. Colfax accompanied Grant. The members of Grant's staff were all present. A multitude congregated outside in the belief that there would be a general reception, but the President decided not to have any.

This afternoon the following dispatch was handed to Grant:

BERLIN, March 4th

President Grant—White House. My cordial congratulations on this solemn day.

BISMARCK

The Indian appropriation and the Denver railroad bills failed to secure the signature of Johnson. All the other bills presented were signed.

The father of General Grant met with an accident on returning from the inauguration. [illegible] out of the carriage he fell backwards [illegible] sustaining severe but not dangerous injuries.

The new wing of the Treasury is handsomely decorated with portraits flags and evergreens.

An immense crowd with elegant ladies and a distinguished assemblage with Grant and Colfax and their wives accompanied by friends and the diplomatic corps entered together. Grant and Colfax and their wives gave a reception in a private room. There was plenty of music but little dancing. Owing to want of room and comfort, many were glad to escape.

The Union Pacific Railroad

ST LOUIS, March 5.—One of the party of prominent gentlemen of California, New York and other States who recently came over the Union Pacific Railroad gives an account of the sufferings of the party. They were detained ten days at Rawlins's Station. They could not induce the officials to [illegible] until an indignation meeting was held and they telegraphed to the Railroad Committee at Washington the treatment they were receiving. When they did start they were compelled to shovel the snow at one point through a drift one thousand feet long. When they had the track clear the engineer had only steam enough to carry them into the deepest part of the drift. In consequence of the intercession of the officers the train stuck and remained two days. At last fifty passengers started for Fort Laramie and [illegible] reaching there in four days after much suffering. They complain bitterly of the treatment they received from the officials and charge them with repeated misstatements and would entertain no proposition to refund extra expenses to the passengers. Exorbitant prices were charged for provisions; in one instance $1 [illegible] for a piece of bread and [illegible]. They denounce the road management in unmeasured terms. There were about 200 on the train when it was left in the snow.

The Press on the Inaugural

The Herald says: In the points of the inaugural [illegible] economy retrenchment and the faithful collection of the revenue we have the [illegible] directions of the new Administration. The general prospect is full of promise, prosperity [illegible] great development and a power at home and abroad.

The World says: It shows too much confidence and self sufficiency and lacks the grave but sound propriety of expression befitting the Chief Magistrate. There are no original ideas in it. Everything in it is flat, crude and the mere echo of the Tribune and common places of the Republican press.

The Tribune says: The emphatic declaration that we shall pay the nation's debt to the uttermost farthing, [illegible] countless millions [illegible] commerce and prosperity of the Republic. Grant will be the champion and will direct his policy toward consolidating and extending Republican institutions upon the North American continent.

The Times says: The inaugural touches great wants and indicates great duties. It propounds a great policy with distinctness, and leaves nothing in doubt.

The Cabinet

WASHINGTON March 5.—The following is President Grant's Cabinet:

Secretary of State E. B. Washburne. Secretary of the Treasury A T Stewart, Secretary of the Navy, Adolph E. Borie. Secretary of the Interior J D Cox. Attorney General, E R Hoar. Postmaster General, J A Creswell. No Secretary of War is named.

Wheat Market

NEW YORK March 5.—California wheat in Liverpool is 10s 6d.

Paper Mill Burned

TROY N Y, March 5.—Carpenter's Paper mill was destroyed by fire. Loss $50 000.

From Cuba.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Prominent Cubans recently arrived state that the report of atrocities committed by the insurgents are fabrications. They have 60,000 men in the field, 20 000 armed and the others fight with such weapons as are obtainable. They hold two thirds of the island and its entire centre is impassable to the Spanish so that the government has had no communication with Nevitas or Puerto Principe for four months.

Valmaseda lost 300 out of 5,000 on the retreat to Bayamo.

The insurgents say all they want to finish the work is arms and munitions, for which they are ready to pay cash.

No blockade is practicable.

The Spanish will be driven from the island.

HAVANA March 4.—The government is seeking transportation to Fernandez for thirteen political prisoners. There is great excitement among their friends as many belong to the best Island families. It is believed that transportation is a blind as the volunteers demand death.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The rooms of Mr Neumann and wife at the West End Hotel were entered by burglars on Tuesday night, the inmates chloroformed and the room robbed of every thing of value.

A man was stopped on Dupont street by garroters yesterday evening, stabbed and severely beaten because he had no watch or money.

Thomas Murray, a sailor boarding house runner, was fined $50 for unlawfully boarding the ship Hercules.

The steamer China sailed to-day for Yokohama with $32 390.

The following telegram was received from Salt Lake City. The Union Pacific Railroad is still blocked with snow. It would have been clear and trains running through to-day but the wind storm last night blew some snow back into the cuts west of Laramie City. From 25 to 100 miles have been cleared east of Cheyenne, but it is blocked this morning. The snow is not deep and it is thought the road will be open in a day or two.

The Occidental Mining Company have declared a dividend of two dollars per share payable March 10th.

The weather is mild and cloudy and threatening rain all day.

Wells, Fargo & Co carried away last evening sixteen bars of bullion, weighing 1,293 pounds and valued at $15 149 74.

The Yellow Jacket Co have declared a dividend of $5 per share payable on the 15th.

It is reported that a heavy increase of high grade ore was struck last night on the Hale & Norcross.

FROM THE NORTH.

VICTORIA, March 5.—The Indian, Harry, who murdered another Indian some time since, was executed at 7 o'clock this morning in a lot adjoining the Police Barracks.

A man named Clark committed suicide at Cowichan on Friday evening last by tying a bag of stones around his neck and plunging into the sea.

The Victoria Cricket Club have accepted the challenge of the San Francisco Eleven, to play a match game at San Francisco in April next.

EXTENSIVE ENTERPRISE.—The OREGON DISPENSARY is establishing a reputation second to no house on the coast as a first class and Cheap Drug Store.

Our success has been so flattering that we have sent for another Apothecary. We have also secured the valuable services of Dr J A Chapman as Consulting Surgeon and Physician; thus giving evidence of our desire to offer the best everything to our patrons for their liberal patronage.
